

Handwritten text in a circular stamp or seal, likely a library or collection mark.

Main body of handwritten text, appearing to be a list or inventory of items, possibly books or documents, written in a cursive script. The text is heavily faded and difficult to decipher.

50

